2. What Each Competitor Is Doing — And What Is Working

2.1 Book Corner Jhelum — Facebook Dominance

Platforms: Facebook (602K+ followers) · Instagram (16K) · Twitter/X · Website: bookcorner.shop

What They Do

Book Corner Jhelum has built the largest Facebook community of any competitor — over 600,000 followers. Their content style is conversational and interactive. They ask questions like "Don't judge a book by its cover — but if you had to, which would you pick?" which drives large volumes of comments and shares. They post book arrivals, in-store moments, and customer visits. Their brand positioning — "Pakistan's Biggest Bookstore" — is consistent and memorable.

What Is Working

- ✓ A 600K Facebook audience gives massive organic reach every time they post a book link.
- ✓ Interactive, question-based posts create high engagement without requiring a paid budget.
- ✓ Consistent brand tagline ('Pakistan's Biggest Bookstore') builds top-of-mind recall.

What Is Missing

- ✗ Instagram is only 16K — Facebook strength has not been converted to multi-platform presence.
- ✗ No visible short-form video strategy (Reels or TikTok).
- ✗ No clear call-to-action funnel driving Facebook followers to website purchases.

2.2 Qasim Ali Shah Publications — Personal Brand Selling Books

Platforms: Instagram (830K followers) · Facebook · YouTube (Official channel) · Foundation Instagram (@qasimalishahfoundation) · Website: qasimalishah.com

What They Do

Qasim Ali Shah is the product. His 830K Instagram following, large YouTube channel, and Facebook page are not 'marketing for books' — they ARE his brand. Every motivational post, Urdu quote, and video naturally leads followers to buy his books. His foundation runs workshops and events that act as live sales channels. He has authored 13 bestselling books covering self-help, leadership, and personal development — all in Urdu.

What Is Working

- ✓ Personal brand trust: people buy from personalities they know and follow.
- ✓ Urdu motivational content is highly shareable — every share is free marketing.
- ✓ YouTube gives long-form reach; Instagram and Facebook drive daily engagement.
- ✓ Foundation events create in-person touchpoints that convert to book sales.

What Is Missing

- ✗ This model depends on pre-existing personal fame — not immediately replicable.
- ✗ No strong TikTok presence to capture younger audiences.

- ✗ Books are sold through multiple third-party platforms — less direct-website focus.

2.3 Sang-e-Meel Publications — Content Volume & Multi-Platform Consistency

Platforms: Instagram (66K followers, 4,342 posts) · Facebook (@sangemeel) · Twitter/X (@sangemeel) · Website: sangemeel.shop

What They Do

Sang-e-Meel have published an extraordinary 4,342 posts on Instagram alone. They are consistently branded as @sangemeel across Instagram, Facebook, and X/Twitter. Content includes Urdu and English book covers, literary quotes, and author spotlights. Their strategy is built on volume and consistency — posting regularly across all platforms to stay visible in the algorithm.

What Is Working

- ✓ High posting volume = consistent algorithm visibility = steady follower growth.
- ✓ Uniform handle (@sangemeel everywhere) makes them easy to find and remember.
- ✓ Multi-platform presence ensures they reach different audience segments.

What Is Missing

- ✗ High volume does not always equal high conversion — weak 'buy now' CTA strategy.
- ✗ No visible short-form video (Reels/TikTok) despite the algorithm favouring it.
- ✗ Social posts do not appear to drive traffic optimally to sangemeel.shop.

2.4 Ferozson Publications — Legacy Brand, Weak Online Game

Platforms: Facebook (@FerozsonsBooks) · Instagram (@info.ferozsons) · Website: ferozsons.com.pk | Also selling on Daraz.pk

What They Do

Pakistan's oldest publisher, established in 1894, with a distribution network across 200+ markets. Their offline reputation and Daraz presence do the heavy lifting. Social media activity exists but is thin relative to their brand authority.

What Is Working

- ✓ 130-year heritage provides unmatched brand trust — no social campaign needed to establish credibility.
- ✓ Daraz listing gives them marketplace reach beyond their own website.

What Is Missing — And What Is YOUR Opportunity

- ✗ A 130-year brand story is being told nowhere on Instagram Reels or YouTube.
- ✗ Minimal engagement-driven content — no community building.
- ✗ This gap means a newer publisher with good content can capture the digital audience Ferozsons ignores.

2.5 Mawara Publications — Weak Online Presence

No confirmed, verified social media accounts were found for Mawara Publications. They present the least competitive threat in the digital space and represent a baseline that Kashif Publications should aim to surpass immediately.

3. The Gaps Nobody Is Filling — Your Competitive Opportunities

The analysis reveals clear, uncontested opportunities that no competitor is currently exploiting. Kashif Publications should move quickly to own these spaces.

Gap in the Market	Why It Matters	Priority
No competitor owns TikTok	Pakistani Gen Z and millennials are heavily on TikTok. First-mover advantage is available right now.	■ HIGH
No Urdu short-form book summary videos	"Yeh kitaab kya kehti hai?" — 60-second Reels explaining a book in Urdu are highly shareable and drive purchase intent.	■ HIGH
No WhatsApp sales funnel	Pakistan runs on WhatsApp. None of the competitors have a proper WhatsApp-to-order flow for direct book sales.	■ HIGH
No in-app Facebook / Instagram Shop	Direct in-app shopping linked to the website reduces drop-offs and increases conversions significantly.	■ MEDIUM
No author storytelling content	Who wrote this book? Why? Their personal story? This emotional content drives purchase decisions and is unused by all rivals.	■ MEDIUM
No email / SMS retargeting for website visitors	Retargeting website visitors who did not buy is completely underutilised by all competitors — very high ROI.	■ MEDIUM
No Facebook Reader Community Group	Book Corner Jhelum built 600K followers over time. A dedicated reader community group accelerates this.	■ BUILD OVER TIME

4. Recommended Social Media Strategy for Kashif Publications

4.1 Phase 1 — Foundation Setup (Month 1–2)

- Unified branding: Register the same handle (e.g. @kashifpublications) on Facebook, Instagram, and TikTok. Consistency makes the brand searchable and memorable.
- Facebook + Instagram Shop: Connect both platforms directly to kashifpublications.com so followers can browse and buy books without leaving the app.
- WhatsApp Business account: Set up a catalogue of books. Add the number to every social post and website page. Pakistani buyers expect to be able to WhatsApp before purchasing.
- Link in bio: Every profile bio must have a direct link to kashifpublications.com — this is the most basic driver of website traffic from social media.
- Pixel / tracking: Install the Facebook Pixel on kashifpublications.com so website visitors can be retargeted with ads later.

4.2 Phase 2 — Weekly Content Calendar (Month 1 onwards, ongoing)

Content Type	Platform(s)	Frequency	Primary Goal
Urdu quote / book excerpt (calligraphy-style graphic)	Facebook + Instagram	3–4× per week	Shares & reach
"Yeh kitaab kya kehti hai?" 60-sec Reel (Urdu book summary)	Instagram + TikTok	2× per week	Reach new audience
Author spotlight / behind-the-scenes	Instagram Stories	2× per week	Trust & connection
"Book of the Week" with Buy Now link + WhatsApp	Facebook + Instagram	1× per week	Direct orders
Customer unboxing / review reposts	All platforms	1–2× per week	Social proof
Interactive post ("Which book are you reading?")	Facebook	1× per week	Community engagement
New arrival announcement with website link	Facebook + Instagram + TikTok	On every new release	Traffic to website

4.3 Phase 3 — Paid Advertising (Month 2–3)

- Facebook & Instagram ads: Target Pakistan, ages 18–45, interests: books, Urdu literature, self-improvement, education. Cost per click in Pakistan is low (PKR 10–400), so even a modest budget has strong reach.
- Retargeting ads: Show ads to people who visited kashifpublications.com but did not place an order. Offer a small discount or free delivery to convert them.

- 'Book of the Week' offer ads: A limited-time discount with a countdown timer creates urgency and drives direct purchases.
- Video ad Reels: Boost the best-performing organic Reels as paid ads — this is the lowest-cost way to reach a new audience at scale.

4.4 Phase 4 — Community & Loyalty Building (Month 3+)

- Facebook Reader Group: Create 'Kashif Publications Readers Club' — a community group where readers discuss books, share reviews, and get exclusive early access to new titles. Book Corner Jhelum's 600K did not happen overnight; it starts here.
- Monthly giveaways: One free book per month drives followers, shares, and page likes organically. Tag-a-friend mechanic multiplies reach.
- Reading challenge: Launch #KashifReadsChallenge — readers share photos of their Kashif books. Reader-generated content = free marketing and social proof.
- Email list: Collect emails from website buyers and offer a 'new arrivals' newsletter. No competitor is doing this — it creates a direct, algorithm-free channel.

5. Competitor Winning Formula — One-Line Summary

Competitor	Their Winning Formula
Book Corner Jhelum	Facebook community first, everything else second
Qasim Ali Shah	The author IS the brand — personal trust sells books
Sang-e-Meel Publications	Post consistently everywhere and the algorithm rewards you
Ferozson Publications	Legacy reputation does the work — social media is an afterthought
Mawara Publications	No clear social media strategy identified

Kashif Publications' Winning Formula Should Be:

Short-form video content (Reels + TikTok) in Urdu, driving to a seamless WhatsApp + website order flow — filling the gap all competitors have left open. The goal is not to copy what competitors do, but to do what none of them are doing.

6. The Single Best Action to Start Driving Orders

Launch a weekly "Book of the Week" Reel on Instagram and TikTok — 60 seconds, in Urdu, explaining why someone needs to read that specific book. End every video with the WhatsApp number and website link in caption. This format is uncontested in this market and directly drives order intent.
